WELCOME TO METRO BOSTON

KRISTIN TOUSSAINT, REPORTER

Two main industries in Boston are technology and education, and Wentworth Institute of Technology is looking to advance both of these with a new academic building. I talked with Wentworth's provost to learn about how the first addition to the campus in 45 years will foster innovation and collaboration. Read about that and more local news at MetroBoston.us.

OPPOSITION TO OBAMA-CARE REPEAL GROWS

A proposal by U.S. Republicans to repeal and replace the Obamacare health insurance program suffered serious new setbacks within the party, when Sen. Ted Cruz expressed his opposition and Sen. Susan Collins dug in with strong criticisms of the legislation. Phil Novack, a spokesman for Cruz, confirmed that the Republican senator said at an event in Texas: "Right now, they don't have my vote, and I don't think they have [Sen.] Mike Lee's vote, either." Politico reported that Cruz complained that the latest Obamacare repeal bill did not address his concerns about bringing down the costs of healthcare. Collins also appeared poised to oppose her party's latest replacement plan for the Affordable Care Act, former President Barack Obama's signature achievement.

PYONGYANG HOLDS ANTI-US RALLY

President Donald Trump dialed up the rhetoric against North Korea again over the weekend, warning the country's foreign minister that he and leader Kim Jong Un "won't be around much longer," as Pyongyang staged a major anti-U.S. rally. North Korea's Foreign Minister Ri Yong Ho told the United Nations General Assembly on Saturday that targeting the U.S. mainland with its rockets was inevitable after "Mr Evil President" Trump called Pyongyang's leader a "rocket man" on a suicide mission. "Just heard Foreign Minister of North Korea speak at U.N. If he echoes thoughts of Little Rocket Man, they won't be around much longer!" Trump said on Twitter. Trump and Kim have traded increasingly threatening and personal insults as Pyongyang races toward its goal of developing a nuclear-tipped missile.

PATS COMEBACK WIN

3 Patriots wide receiver Chris Hogan makes a 47-yard touchdown against Houston Texans Andre Hal in the second quarter of Sunday's game at Gillette Stadium.

ANGELA MERKEL WINS FOURTH TERM

4 Chancellor Angela Merkel's conservatives secured a fourth consecutive term in office on Sunday in an election that brought a far-right party into the German parliament for the first time in more than half a century, exit polls indicated. After shock results last year, from Britain's vote to leave the European Union to the election of President Donald Trump, many look to Merkel to rally a bruised liberal Western order and lead a post-Brexit Europe. Merkel's conservative bloc - her Christian Democrats and their Bavarian allies, the Christian Social Union - won 32.5 percent of the vote, making them by far the largest parliamentary group, according to an exit poll for the broadcaster ARD. Their closest rivals, the center-left Social Democrats, slumped to 20.0 percent - a new post-war low.

US AIRSTRIKES KILL 17 ISIS MILITANTS IN LIBYA

5 U.S. airstrikes on an Islamic State desert camp in Libya killed 17 militants and destroyed three vehicles, the U.S. military said. U.S. Africa Command said in a statement that strikes on Friday targeted a camp 150 miles southeast of Sirte, a city that was once the Islamic State stronghold in Libya. The camp was used to move fighters in and out of Libya, plot attacks and store weapons, the statement said. "ISIS and al-Qaeda have taken advantage of ungoverned spaces in Libya to establish sanctuaries for plotting, inspiring and directing terror attacks," the statement said, using an acronym for Islamic State. The last known U.S. strike in Libya was on Jan. 19, a day before Trump's inauguration, when more than 80 Islamic State militants, some of whom were believed to be plotting attacks in Europe, died in U.S. airstrikes on camps outside Sirte.

POLLS

As the National Football League struggles to explain this season's downturn in viewer ratings, 34% of American adults say they are less likely to watch an NFL game because of the growing number of protests by players on the field.

SEE YOURSELF IN AN INVESTIGATIONAL STUDY

Let's Face ACNE Together!

To qualify, you must be:

- 9 years of age or older • Have moderate to severe acne vulgaris
- Have a minimum of 20-50 inflammatory papules and pustules face, 25 to 100 non-inflammatory lesions and no more than 2 nodules

foamix[®]
Pharmaceuticals

We are currently conducting a clinical research study of an investigational topical treatment foam for those that suffer from acne.

There is no cost to enroll in the trial. Participants who qualify will receive study-related evaluations and medication at no cost. Insurance is not required to participate and compensation for travel and time may be provided.

In addition to any relief you may receive from the study medication you are assigned to use throughout this research study, your participation may also help to answer important questions regarding the safety and effectiveness of the investigational medication. This could provide new information about the treatment for acne, which may help other patients in the future.

If you or someone you know is interested in taking part in this research study, please discuss it with your family and talk to your doctor.

Here's a rendering of the new engineering, innovation and science building at Wentworth. COURTESY OF WENTWORTH INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

With new building comes an innovative approach to education at Wentworth

Wentworth Institute of Technology's first new building in 45 years focuses on the future.

KRISTIN TOUSSAINT
@kristindakota
kristin.toussaint@metro.us

A new building on a college campus is more than student's tuition dollars at work — it brings with it new opportunities, innovations and even a new approach to education that helps students carve out a path to success in a world that runs differently than it did decades ago.

To Wentworth Institute of Technology, the first new academic building on its Boston campus in more than 45 years brings all of that and more.

Ground broke on a building for engineering, innovation, and sciences on Wentworth's Huntington Avenue campus this summer, and though it won't be occupied until 2019, the start of a new school year is already affected by the upcoming change.

"I would say this year is a differentiator for us," said Eric Overstrom, provost and senior vice president for Academic Affairs at Wentworth. "In the context of these new developments at the institutional level, all the way to include students and faculty, the entire community is already elevated. There's just a buzz across campus."

As the new academic year started, students saw "this huge hole in the ground," Overstrom said, and within a month, steel beams for the new building will go up.

The new $55 million building will be home to the school's Biomedical and Civil Engineering programs, a Center for Innovation, a 3-D manufacturing center and Wentworth's new Biological Engineering Program that launched this fall.

Biotech is a burgeoning field in Boston, and this new program will appeal to students who want to focus on technology but also adapt their skills to new industries. Biology has become a tech-heavy sector, aligning with an engineering mindset for projects like human genome sequencing and understanding the genetic basis of diseases.

"Many of the traditional fields of science and engineering, and increasingly humanities and social sciences are now becoming blurred," Overstrom said.

Studies need to be interdisciplinary across topics, he added, "and institutions like Wentworth that have a rich history in the technological applied aspect of things can now reach out and literally expand their mission in ways that really educate and train future leaders in these spaces."

The new building is opening opportunities not only to students, but to faculty and the city of Boston as well. Wentworth aims to be a pipeline to provide graduates trained for the new tech industries setting up home here and to provide an innovative education that serves students beyond their final exams.

"[Studying at Wentworth] is not just a four year block of time, this is lifetime experience," Overstrom said. "The physical evidence of that is not just the new building, but the new building being utilized in a completely different context and philosophy than buildings that have been on campus for 50 years. ... It's the first embodiment of our clear commitment to this."

NFL players respond to Trump with protests

Days after Trump called for the firing of players who kneel, the NFL emerged with a political tone.

JOE PANTORNO
@joepantorno
joe.pantorno@metro.us

What once was a silent form of protest performed by Colin Kaepernick to address police brutality, NFL players kneeling for the national anthem have taken on a whole new cause.

The league and Donald Trump are virtually at war after the president's comments over the past few days. And players around the NFL took action on Sunday.

At a rally on Friday night for Alabama Sen. Luther Strange, Trump got on the topic of players around the NFL kneeling for the anthem shortly after he rescinded an invitation to the White House for the 2017 NBA champion Golden State Warriors: "Wouldn't you love to see one of these NFL owners, when somebody disrespects our flag, to say, 'Get that son of a bitch off the field right now, out, he's fired,'" he said.

On Sunday morning,

he doubled down on his comments, tweeting for fan support: "If NFL fans refuse to go to games until players stop disrespecting our Flag & Country, you will see change take place fast. Fire or suspend!"

Countless players fired right back on social media; including Green Bay Packers tight end Martel

Ius Bennett tweeting that he was "OK with being fired for what I believe in."

Plenty of owners also came forward, including New England Patriots owner Robert Kraft, a friend of Trump, who admitted he was "deeply disappointed by the tone of the comments made by the President."

But the real rebuttal began at 9 a.m. ET with the Jacksonville Jaguars and Baltimore Ravens getting the Sunday portion of Week 3 in London, England. Members of both teams knelt or locked arms in a sign of unity, including Jaguars owner Shahid Khan.

In Chicago, Pittsburgh Steelers head coach Mike Tomlin alerted CBS that his team would not leave the locker room for pre-game festivities, stating that "we're not going to play politics."

New Prostate Pill Also Enhances Sex

Men in clinical trials see dramatic improvements in nighttime bathroom urges and overall sexual performance.

NHS — A new prostate pill is helping men across the country regain control of their bladders and their sex lives. Innovus Pharmaceuticals, the company behind the breakthrough, says its key ingredient blocks certain hormones in the body that make your prostate grow. As a result, while taking the pill, your prostate gets smaller and your symptoms disappear.

"Men say the first things they notice is waking up less for the bathroom and an unexpected boost in sexual performance" says Dr. Bassam Damaj, Director of Science at Innovus.

"It's why they love the product. While most prostate drugs kill your sex life, our natural pill enhances it. Plus, it solves all the other problems. It will strengthen your stream, end your straining, and relieve the constant urge to urinate".

Sensational Improvements in Urinary Control and Performance

Sales for the new pill, which goes by the brand name ProstaGorx, are exploding! And that's because ProstaGorx is not a drug. It's something completely different. It uses natural compounds to shrink your prostate and put the brakes on prostate growth. By taking it daily, it helps men regain control of their bladders and escape all of urinary discomfort that can make life miserable.

Reverses Prostate Growth

Numerous medical studies reveal that keeping your prostate healthy is vital for avoiding embarrassing bathroom problems. When your prostate is small, you pee freely, forcefully, and without hesitation. You don't feel any pain or discomfort. And you feel fully relieved every time you go.

But when your prostate swells, you experience just the opposite. And endless battle with annoying enlarged prostate symptoms that can linger for decades! And according to new studies, they will. A staggering 80% of men suffer with them. The most common being weak urinary streams, painful urination, dribbling and leaking, middle of the night bathroom urges, incomplete emptying, and the constant feeling of having to pee.

Boosts Sexual Performance

According to new research published by the Mayo Clinic, men with large prostate have less sex, lower sex drives, and consider more problems with their erections. In fact 8 out of 10 men with prostate issues end up suffering with ED!

"Most men have no idea that their prostate can impact their sexual performance" says Dr. Damaj. "The prostate gland needs to be healthy to achieve a powerful orgasm. If its enlarged, men can experience serious sexual let downs."

ProstaGorx Offers Clinically Proven Results

- Reduce frequency and urgency
- Stop dribbling, dripping, and leaking
- Improve flow and force
- Relieve pain while peeing
- Empty your bladder completely
- End late night bathroom trips and keep you asleep longer
- And ignite your sex drive!

How It Works

ProstaGorx uses the same science that makes drugs like Alpha Blockers so effective but since it's natural it won't give you any side effects and you won't need a prescription.

As you get older your body slowly converts your remaining testosterone into estrogen through a process known as aromatase. Over the years as more testosterone is converted into estrogen, your body becomes imbalanced — too much estrogen and too little testosterone signals your to produce DHT, a growth hormone 10 times stronger than regular testosterone.

Unfortunately, instead of correcting this imbalance, the enormous spike in DHT causes your prostate to grow! As levels of DHT rise, your prostate only gets bigger... pressing hard against your bladder

ProstaGorx Works: This new pill blocks hormones associated with an enlarged prostate without causing any negative side-effects and clamping your urethra shut! The result is painful and persistent prostate problems that will have you living your life around a bathroom.

ProstaGorx naturally shrinks your prostate using a key nutrient that's clinically proven to block DHT. As your levels of DHT begin to fall, your prostate gets smaller and your symptoms vanish.

Backed By Stunning Research

In a new landmark study, the leading ingredient in ProstaGorx slashed lower urinary tract symptoms by a staggering 81% and was reported to be as effective as the drug Proscar but with virtually zero side effects. And in yet another study "boosted prostate health by promoting a healthy libido.

"Every since I retired my prostate has given me hell" says John Manning, 68, of Ohio. "But since taking ProstaGorx everything has changed. I've stopped waking up for the bathroom in the middle of the night. I pee a lot less during the day. And when I do go, my streams are strong and there's no hesitation. And out of nowhere my sex life's improved! I've tried everything and this is the only thing that's worked".

Guaranteed Effective

ProstaGorx is an exciting new prostate pill that's helping men find real relief from prostate problems without any of the negative side effects from drugs.

By blocking certain hormones in the body that trigger prostate growth, ProstaGorx naturally shrinks your prostate, relieving your worst symptoms safely.

With daily use you'll sleep more, pee less, and have much better sex. ProstaGorx is clinically proven to end the urgency and frequency, improve urinary flow and force, and give you an entirely new level of comfort that makes life easier and much more enjoyable.

How to Get ProstaGorx in Massachusetts

This is the first official public release of ProstaGorx in Massachusetts. In order to get the word out about ProstaGorx the manufacturer, Innovus Pharmaceuticals is offering special introductory discounts to all Massachusetts residents.

A special phone hotline has been set up to take advantage of deep discounts during this ordering opportunity. Special discounts will be available starting today at 7:00am. The discounts will automatically be applied to all Massachusetts callers. The Special TOLL-FREE Hotline number is 1-800-739-0207 and will be open 24-hours a day.

Only a limited supply of ProstaGorx is currently available in your region. Consumers who miss out on our current product inventory will have to wait until more become available. But this could take weeks. The maker advises your best chance is to call 1-800-739-0207 early.

THESE STATEMENTS HAVE NOT BEEN EVALUATED BY THE FDA. THIS PRODUCT IS NOT INTENDED TO DIAGNOSE, TREAT, CURE, OR PREVENT ANY DISEASE. RESULTS MAY VARY.

- City would provide more, public rest rooms all over District 7.
- Greed has taken its Toll. Boston has No Affordable rental units, if your not on section 8 or other programs. We need to build more affordable Rental Units. Increase services for senior citizens and Discounts.
- Sky - high rents & home prices in the city are causing a huge wave of displacement that's having a disparate impact on the communities of color.
- Some Sidewalks in the District are unsafe and will be repaired.
- There would be regular police Monitoring of all Boston Parks to insure access by children, families, the Elderly and other Boston Tax payers. No one should have to wear a bullet proof vest to enjoy a public park.
- We need to Challenge auto Insurance to a base neighborhood auto rates on current data on accidents within last year. We have been paying the highest rates in the state.

HOW TO GET AHEAD

Take your professional life by the steering wheel. ISTOCK

The best ways to use your driver's license to make money

Clean out your backseat. It's time to rake in some cash.

PATRICK KING
@MetroNewYork
patrick.king@metro.us

Not everyone thinks of earning their driver's license as nailing a job interview. But with the introduction of what seems like countless ride apps like Uber and Lyft, is it really that far off? All you need is four wheels and a dream. So what are the best ways to make money with only a driver's license?

If you want to go the route of becoming a certified taxi driver, the process may be a little more involved than you would have imagined. According to the DMV, you will need to provide a laundry list of documents such as a criminal background check, a driver's history report and proof of residency or U.S. citizenship. Some cab companies may even charge you certain fees to join their team as well as renting a car from the company if you do not have your own.

Of course, you can only get to this point if you have gone through their rigorous training period to get the lay of the land.

So how much money can you expect to make working at one of these cab companies? According to a study from the Bureau of Labor Statistics, "The median annual wage for taxi drivers and chauffeurs was $24,300 in May 2016," with the "lowest 10 percent earned less than $18,250, and the highest 10 percent earned more than $38,500."

Depending on how you look at it, this can be huge time commitment with a low reward for someone pursuing driving part-time. On the other hand, it could be a great salary for someone who is ambitious enough to put in the time and eager to give passengers a pleasant experience.

But what if you want to take rides on your own time through one of these newer driving apps? I spoke with Jayme Gonzalez, a 32-year-old who does product development and release planning at Sony Music, who decided to start driving for Uber around Westchester County, New York, for a little extra cash on the weekends. "It seemed like a great way to make extra cash without having an actual time commitment," says Gonzalez, "having a '9-5' makes it tough to want to pick up an actual second gig so this allows me to use my time as I like."

So how hard is it to get approved to drive for Uber? "It was supereasy," he says. "There are very few barriers to entry. You need to pass a background check, have a clean license and a four-door car, 2002 or newer."

Gonzalez says he generally likes to work one full day during the weekend and picks up rides when he has the time during the workweek. On an average, he says, he is able to pull in around $25 to $35 an hour where he lives, and the extra money has been a huge help.

"It's allowed me to just have some extra cash in my pockets for all sorts of random things," he says, "I'm getting married in a few months so it helps there. I own a home, so it helps there as well." So is this a job he sees himself sticking with? "Long-term, I see me doing it and having it going straight to savings," he says. "It's me turning idle time into money while getting to knockout my weekly podcast rotation and new music releases. No complaints here!"

Brady magic beats Texans

Tom Brady celebrates with Chris Hogan at Gillette Stadium on Sunday against Houston. GETTY IMAGES

Tom Brady led a game-winning drive to give the Pats a 36-33 win.

ERIC WILBUR
@MetroBOS
sports@metro.us

Tom Brady connected on 25-of-35 passes for 378 yards and five touchdowns in a thrilling, 36-33 come-from-behind win over the Texans on Sunday at Gillette Stadium.

1 Circle of trust has a new member

Just when it seemed the Patriots might find themselves on the short end of back-to-back losses at Gillette Stadium for the first time since 2008, quarterback Tom Brady presented fans with yet another annal to put into his jar of comeback victories. Down 33-28 to a Houston Texans team that presented a surprising offensive attack behind rookie quarterback Deshaun Watson with less than a minute remaining, Brady found receiver Brandin Cooks in the end zone for the go-ahead touchdown. It was the second touchdown on the day, to go along with 131 yards receiving, 42 on his dazzling display of speed after catching a Brady pass in the third quarter. After back-to-back games during which Cooks seemed to provide little more than a bit component in the Patriots' offense, his speed and presence were vital in the 36-33 win over the Texans. Rob Gronkowski (89 yards, one touchdown) had the most catches for New England (eight), Chris Hogan had the longest touchdown reception (47 yards), but watching the trust between Brady and Cooks blossom in the process of victory was the most important development.

2 The defense ... umm, rests?

The first real indication that the Patriots might have been in trouble against the Texans came when running back Mike Gillislee failed to convert a fourth-and-1 with 10:38 remaining in the fourth quarter. That forced the trailing Patriots to punt the ball away, hearing boos at Gillette Stadium. So, while it was a thrilling win for New England, it's somewhat tempered by the fact that the Pats' defense has been borderline horrific over its first two appearances at Gillette Stadium this season.

Watson looked special, particularly during a Houdini escape in the fourth, but he also carved the Patriots up in just his second professional start (22-of-33, 301 yards, two touchdowns). The Texans amounted 417 yards of total offense, which figured to be an improbability for the Texans' dormant offense over their first two games of the season. Are there some serious issues that need to be addressed with this Patriots' defense? Or will we just blame the turf again?

3 Kneel on this

Frankly, it was the most Patriots to take a knee in Gillette Stadium since the later stages of last January's rout over the Steelers in the AFC title game. There was some question as to how the bulk of the Patriots might respond to Donald Trump's recent, harsh words for recent protestations of the national anthem in the NFL. Team owner Robert Kraft released a statement earlier in the day proclaiming that he was aligned with the players' freedom of speech. That was a semblance of unity that spread to field when a number of players, including Devin McCourty, Cooks, Malcolm Brown, and Duron Harmon took a knee during the National Anthem presentation at Gillette. Brady stood, interlocking arms with teammate Phillip Dorsett, but a number of fans didn't take kindly to the protest, showering the field with boos and shouting pleas for the players to "stand up." As for the Texans, none of the players took a knee. As it turned out, Harmon took another knee following his game-ending interception. The fans cheered that one, of course.

Aries Emotional disillusionment will set in if you adopt someone else's beliefs. Don't follow anyone who claims to know it all. Make your own decisions.

Taurus Protect your assets, and negotiate on your own behalf. It's important to effectively control any financial, medical or legal matters that surface without hesitation.

Gemini Disillusionment will set in if you aren't honest about your feelings for someone. Consider your needs and think about how best to satisfy yourself and those you care about.

Cancer Work on personal growth and physical improvements. Trying to change those around you will not turn out the way you want it to. Keep your life simple.

Leo Focus on what you can do, not on your opponents or intransigent situations. Surround yourself with individuals who share similar objectives.

Virgo Deal with stressful situations openly and honestly, and take better care of your emotional and physical health. Refuse to let anyone put unrealistic demands on you.

Libra Consider your options before you make a move. Knowing the pros and cons will make it easier to forgo choices that are too risky. Good fortune comes from good decisions.

Scorpio Be imaginative and use any emotional tension you feel to create something that will bring you satisfaction. Make a promise to someone you love.

Sagittarius Be careful how you treat others and respond to them. It will be easy to get into a no-win situation. Make sure you can back up your assertions with proof.

Capricorn Think before you make an emotional decision. Now is not the time to be a follower or to take on additional debt. Financial awareness will control your stress.

Aquarius Make decisions based on facts, not on feelings. Your returns will be much higher if you think matters through and are cognizant of all your options.

Pisces Being levelheaded and willing to listen and compromise will be the best way to avoid conflict. Channel your energy into creative outlets to ease stress. EUGENIA LAST
